

Political narcissism

Monday, 14 June 2021

Kate

The suggestion of her behavior, aside from the reign of junk, is that she is the superior criminal. Certainly I missed it. That she is a criminal.

A first estimation of such behavior is fear. Another is self destruction. It follows from society and law, from the criminalization of self destruction. However, the criminal expects the process of understanding to perform as his trap. The content is inane. The self destruction is most practical.

By way of understanding is a conceit of propriety. The violation of the social independence of the individual is a conceit of propriety. This propriety is found in sociopathology. Perhaps rather “anti – propriety”. The individual lacking the intimacy of social membership in the breadth and depth of other as same, group as many other, and world as all others. The individual who has never had the courage to place self in society and world. The individual who continuously fails at errors of self awareness.

That self destruction is performed by crime. Each violation, implicit or explicit, of humanity is self destructive. Each violation of human rights is a crime, and the habituation is criminal.

John Pritchard, @syntelos [CC-BY-NC]