

Political criminology

Thursday, 1 July 2021

DHS + FBI

The FBI twitter looks like a metaphysical terror of association and timing. [2021/06/28 Journal 0]
[2021/06/26 Journal 0]

That conclusion brings the death nell to DHS and FBI. An exasperating realization. That the organs of government required by the executive to operate against crime and terror are the origin of that crime and terror.

It's plainly bizarre. That I should offer the criminal accusation and that it should be so willingly taken up. Recalls the assertion that they threaten the executive, directly.

John Pritchard, @syntelos [CC-BY-NC]

Political criminology

Friday, 2 July 2021

Kewl

special

“What have I got?”

me

“You got em scared, submissive, and subjugated. You got a thing. In government and society. A crime thing. Gets you laid and gets you paid. But you’re a fucking psycho. Stupid and blind. What thinks it can get over in the large in public like a junky whore.”

refrain

“Stupid and blind.”

encore

“Ain’t nothing worse than a junky whore.”

John Pritchard, @syntelos [CC-BY-NC]

Political criminology

Saturday, 3 July 2021

Recognizing criminality

The political criminal depends upon high profile illusion. First priority is the maintenance of the credibility, stature, and superiority that is the method and means of distraction from the desperation and dependence of crime. The tactics of division serve the strategy of division. Political division occurs naturally by certitude of ineptitude. People get upset when they are convinced of an error. Until the error is resolved, it is a sublimated disturbance. The cultivation of frustration occurs as a matter of course in a sociopathological pursuit.

A political career is an easy choice for a committed sociopath. Everything that happens is the “bread and butter” of exploitation.

Likewise, the politicisation of government is a crime. For example, it is criminal for a law enforcement officer to perform with a political intent. When a law enforcement officer is standing on a political purpose, that person is found engaged in a criminal act. Intent is self evident.

John Pritchard, @syntelos [CC-BY-NC]

Political criminology

Sunday, 4 July 2021

Literacy, logic, error, and propriety

“Stealing money.

“Feeling time.”

Johnny Utah

In my experience it was Newt Gingrich who developed the exploitation of C-SPAN to the normalization of error, inanity, polarisation, and sociopathology. The violation of logic became increasingly popular, and politics became a pleasure zone, an echo chamber. The race to the bottom started there, and was established with W. Bush. The prevalence of inanity at the concentration of our power is irrational. The effect is imaginary. The effect is metaphysical.

The phenomena of fascism include insecurity, fear, and sociopathology. We could encompass the observable with an expansion of Sociopathology to include natural and artificial spectra. The natural range is classical. The artificial range is marginal and affected. The social violation power normalizes classical and marginal sociopathology, which is an effect of disturbance, fear, and terror. The abandonment of logic is an abandonment of literacy, and an invitation to the violence of self destruction. The absurdity of insanity is terrifying. The inane effect is relatively sociopathological because it is reinforcing, and because this is the fascist effect. This affected victim, the sociopathological xombie, was unable or unwilling to reject the invitation to the imaginary power of impropriety.

The unaffected are protected by their adherence to the cognitive strategy of awareness. The patience to witness the manifestation of actuality in time. The practice yields a moral fabric of being that rejects self annihilation. In awareness one sees errors, and self preservation is expressed constructively.

John Pritchard, @syntelos [CC-BY-NC]