Physical socialism

The term physical socialism has been introduced in [2021/06/03 Journal 1] to represent the national political concentration of power in law, economy, population, and time. In [2021/06/04 Journal 1] it is developed under the rubric global social reference frame or physical society.

$$\sigma_{\phi} = \pi_{\phi} + \lambda_{\phi} + \gamma_{\phi} + \rho_{\phi} + \tau_{\phi}$$

Issues of government and economy may be found to be temporal processes of development and evolution over population (π), law (λ), government (γ), and economy (ρ).

In this frame, physical socialism contrasts to physical capitalism as the nation is politically sovereign or subjugated [Metaphysical review 2021/06/03 Journal 0] [Physical socialism 2021/06/03 Journal 1].

Issues of subjugation can be subtle. The differentiation of conceptual subscription in mutual benefit of national interest, and political subjugation in a relatively exclusive benefit of interest, can be remote and tedious. Social reality is commonly accepted as wisdom. However, social reality can be rubbish. Exploitation media spans sex and politics. The exercise, discussion, description, and study of our national collective will is dissuaged and discouraged by the heart of darkness. The exploitation of social reality by benefit of popular response is common to the issues of national politics.

To annihilate the concentration of our political and economic power, thusly, is an obvious crime against our collective health and wellbeing. It is necessary to become familiar with the issues of power. It is a variation on the themes of social independence and economic interdependence.
